the Brite Stuff

The Brite Stuff blog has the Tassel Power as one of their 3 new products to light up your life. “These cute new keychains are a perfect way to disguise an iPhone cable and keep it from getting tangled up in your purse.”

iPhoneLife
MAGAZINE

The iPhoneLife.com website has a very favorable review of the Tassel Power. “Chic Buds could have gone the gimmick route and made a low-quality, cheesy version, but it didn’t. The Tassel Power is solidly built with aluminum connectors and reinforced cable. Even the key ring is substantial.”

SAN DIEGO family

The SanDiegoFamily.com website features the Crossbody Power in their list of unique gift ideas. “Cute purse and I love having a built-in charger, says Rachel.”

& More!

The blog Mommy’s Block Party has the Crossbody Power in their Mother’s Day gift guide. “After admiring the lovely blue color and super cute satin, polka-dot lining, I plugged my bag in for its initial charge. It took about 3 hours and was super easy to figure out. My favorite thing about this bag is how organized it keeps me.”

BELLO

Bello Magazine (Circ. 230k) spotlights the Crossbody Power in the Ready To Fest Style article featuring products that achieve the perfect vibe while attending music festivals. “Hands down my new favorite handbag! This line comes in different styles, including a very chic Cluchette, but nothing is easier to carry during a music festival than a crossbody. Made of high quality vegan leather, they come with a built-in portable USB charger perfect for bringing back to life your phone or tablet.”

Big Blend Radio

Big Blend Radio Magazine features the Crossbody Power in their Three Smart Accessories for On-The-Go Living article. “Seriously - a purse that charges your smartphone? Oh heck yes! Does it have style? Yes, again! My Crossbody Power Purse by Chic Buds arrived just in time to save me from a technical meltdown.”
